Stayed with Chris Gorski on our annual trip to Wisconsin and he suggested that the three words best describing me would be "frugal, tight and cheap!"

We were going through old pictures to try to purge some and came across this one.

I am not sure when it was from. I am thinking maybe 8th grade graduation from Howe. Maybe someone can enlighten me.

This is the back of the photo. Kind of cool, because it has most, if not all, our signatures.

Today is Thanksgiving, and I want to say thank you, Kent, for keeping this newsletter going. This holiday is great because people seem to try hard to appreciate their blessings. Today we had dinner at the home of our son's mother-in-law. The group was large, and each person took a turn briefly stating what they were thankful for. A nice way to cap off the holiday.
