Volume 9, Number 7

Wisconsin Rapids, Wisconsin

December 21, 1951

LARGE AUDIENCE ENRaptured BY LHS CHRISTMAS MUSIC

All who attended the Christmas concert last Wednesday night left the fieldhouse with a feeling of satisfaction, for the band, orchestra, and choir had given an outstanding presentation of a variety of selections.

Especially commendable were the performances of the four soloists of the evening, Jim Bicket, Gerald Christensen, Jackie Finup, and Donna Bassuener. Mr. Stiemke, Mr. Hornig, and Mr. Liska should also be congratulated for their work with the music groups.

Stain glass windows made by the art department and a beautiful Christmas tree helped set the holiday atmosphere which contributed to the success of the evening.

ARISTOCRATS TO PLAY FOR "SNOWBALL" FORMAL

Wednesday, December 26, is the date for the "Snowball" formal to be held at the S.S. Peter and Paul School gym. The dance, co-sponsored by the Young People's Sodality and the Catholic War Veterans, will last from 9 to 1. Tickets, which can be acquired at the door or from members of the Sodality, will cost $2.00. Music will be by the "Aristocrats" from Wausau.

Debaters Ready For Holiday Engagements

The Lincoln High School debate team will debate before the American Legion on January 2 and before the Rotary Club on January 7. The students who will participate in these programs are: Henry Kingdon, Bev. Randall, Ed Oakes, and Jim Miscoil. These practice debates are the final ones before the State District contest to be held in February.

Noel Assembly To Close School For Holidays

This afternoon at 2:00, the student body will gather in the field house for a last meeting before beginning a two-week vacation. The program will open with the song, "Gloria in Excelsis Deo," to be sung by the choir accompanied by the orchestra. A Christmas skit "Why The Chimes Rang", directed by Ronnie Maxwell and Joan Duggan will then be presented. Those in the cast will be: Dave Becker, Donald DeKarske, Jerry Fahrner, Betty Gamroth, Don Hostvedt, Ray Klappa, June Kristy, Shirley Knuth, Vera Matthews, Beverly Randall and Sally Shambeau.

The orchestra will then play "Christmas Phantasy" by Grossman. Jane King will sing "Rudolph the Red Nosed Reindeer", accompanied by the orchestra.

Bryce Anunson will then sing "The Lord's Prayer," after which the assembly will close with the entire audience singing "Silent Night."

Showboat Formal Feb. 8

The Thespians have already started planning the Thespian Formal, which is to be held on February 8. Although the orchestra has not been definitely decided upon, the theme which has been chosen is "Showboat".

Co-chairmen for the dance are Bill Johnson and Betsy Dickerman. Other committees are: Invitations - Nancy Bird, Betty Gamroth, Donna Hemmersbach, Beryl Royan and Jon Duggan; Refreshments - Donajean Proctor and Doris Wandrey; Programs - Mark Farris and Beverly Randall; Orchestra - Sharon Roeder; Posters - Frank Stienke, Don Hostvedt, and Nancy Herman. Jan Van Ornum is chairman of the decoration committee on which all Thespians will serve.

Yuletide Spirit Embraces LHS

The Spirit of Christmas has entered the doors of Lincoln High School and has stepped into the hearts of all within.

The traditional Christmas tree decorated by senior Pep Club members gives the holiday touch to the first floor. Many class rooms are ornamented with lovely greens and jolly Santa Clauses. A tiny manger scene made by Miss Polzin for her room represents the religious aspect of the season. Two members of each of Mr. Rheel's classes contributed their efforts in drawing a lovely Christmas scene on the board of his room.

In recent assemblies and during the noon hours the student body has enthusiastically participated in the singing of Christmas carols. In a few of the foreign language classes students have sung these same songs in a different tongue.

The carols, decorations, and happy spirits blend together to make a joyous holiday season.

LINCOLN LIGHTS

Edited and Published bi-weekly by the students of Lincoln High School, Wisconsin Rapids, Wisconsin.

With the New Year soon to be heralded in, why don't some of us set down one of our resolutions to read, "I'll try to be more courteous from now on." It would be a turn for the better and also generously appreciated by all.

During the Christmas holidays many of us will be seeing seniors of '51 back for a short, but long awaited vacation L. H. S. says, "Welcome," for you are one of us and we enjoy having you home, for this joyous season.

Best wishes for a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year extended to you from the Lincoln Lights staff, its editors, and advisor are hearty and warm as is possible. Have a Happy Yuletide Season we'll see you in '52!

Through the help of Miss Schleich and the consent of Mr. Ritchay L.H.S. has a new club. By name it is the N.F.L. or National Forensic Organization. In order to be a life member of N.F.L. you must earn 20 credit points in some phase of forensics. The more points you earn the higher degrees are bestowed upon you. Five members, which were needed in order to secure the charter for this national club, are Edward Oakes, Henry Kingdon, James Miscoll, Ronald Maxwell and Sharon Roeder. N.F.L. should offer a challenge to all who are interested in forensics, for it is a worthwhile organization with many advantages.

PUT A NEW FOOT FORWARD!

When January 1, 1952, rolls around, just remember that you have one whole year in which to make a success of yourself. Live each day to the fullest. Take the new year and use it as a sculptor uses his clay. Expect a well finished product at the end — the best image of you possible — to develop slowly. Learn by your mistakes and try not to repeat them. Keep happy at what you're doing, and you'll soon find yourself enjoying everything you do. Even the hardest tasks will become fun. Forget old grudges, and you'll find how many past enemies become fast friends.

But, above all, keep one thing in mind — forget the past year. Let it serve only as a guide to help you to do better this coming year.

Now, with a clean slate and 366 days, let's see you make the most of them.

Poets' Pantry

After studying a unit of poetry, the senior class tried their hand at a few original pieces. Following are a few examples of their poetic abilities. More will appear in later issues.

ME A POET

Reading poetry isn't so bad
It's writing it that's driving me mad.
Some people have it;
Some people haven't;
If I had, now I forgot it.
I think of a line, just what I desire;
But the words fit like a ball in a spire.
From the preceding lines it has clearly been shown.
My poetic ability I have grossly outgrown.

—Ted Olson

THE HUMAN RELAY

Humans, humans, hurtling hustling, hastening all the day;
Always starting never stopping — dashing all the way.
Lunging, laughing, leaping, lustily looking for their lofty lot;
Pausing never to decipher the day's code, dot by dot.
Just where are all these humans going?
What will they do when they all get there?
Will they enjoy that for which they've striven;
Or will they be too tired to care?
All this ceaseless clamoring creates just a confused stew;
As for me, I'll go my own way, but I'll get there too.

RELIGION

To go to church today is what we need;
More faith in God is what we mortals need;
We should take time out, to well express our creed,
And then to follow these beliefs with deed.
None of us is perfect, that we know;
Sin's the world's most grievous woe;
We to God our strong allegiance owe;
All should try to make this ideal grow.

—Henry Kingdon

A Knitting Pointer
On Our Faculty

From our friendly rival, Stevens Point, comes one of our sophomore and junior English teachers, Miss Hull. She was born there, attended P. J. Jacobs High, and received her bachelors degree from Stevens Point State Teachers' College (so she's a Panther through and through!) Before coming here, Miss Hull taught history at Clintonville.

As her hobbies, she claims knitting and listening to all kinds of music, especially classical. From outside sources we learned that she's not an amateur knitter either but rather professional, having learned as a child during a confined illness. In the musical field she also enjoys singing and playing the piano. At the present she is very much interested in Braille, which she is studying. As a pastime she also chooses reading historical novels.

Miss Hull has traveled to Canada several times, has been to New York, and would like to go to England someday because as she states, "I'm English."

When asked to comment on Lincoln High, she remarked that it's "just wonderful — I like everything about it."

To a friendly teacher we say best of luck in the future.

AHOY 1952!

Standing at the threshold of a new year, most of us, make New Year's resolutions. Our original intentions prove interesting, although sometimes they are just a bit hard to keep. Here are a few resolutions made by students of L.H.S. They resolve to:

Pat Aughey-Keep "that ring" polished and my pen a-scratchin' (sailors really rate!)

Jean Hein - Get my schoolwork done on time.

Carol Ashbeck - Catch up on sleep.

Barb Brener - I know better than to make any resolutions.

Violet Andreasen - Arrive at school on time.

June Kristy - Never cut my hair again.

Kathy Jackan - Make fewer resolutions than before.

Vernal Bidwell - Leave the adding machines in Miss Ruggles' room alone.

Mrs. Plenke - Be better-natured with my impossible home-room.

Alice Kroll - Be a better volley ball player.

Ted Olson - Keep no resolutions I make.

Holiday Arrivals

They err in thinking that Santa Claus enters down the chimney when he really enters through an opening in the heart.

—Anon.

Don Dekarske - Save bowling ball 161 on Friday nights for John Abel.

Helene Casey - Give up all parties after New Years Eve.

Jerry Nichols - Keep from breaking my neck ice-skating.

Diane Turner - Stick with a "certain one" of those three brothers.

Lyle Tenpas - Pass geometry or "bust" trying.

Maxwell Advises Good Study Habits

A boy who is a fine candidate for the title "Most Likely to Succeed" is Ronnie Maxwell, friendly, capable, and efficient. He was born April 4, 1934 at Nelsonville near Stevens Point.

Here in high school, he belongs to the Dramatic Club, of which he is president, the Thespians, Chemistry Club and Y.G.O.P. He is also a member of the debate squad and participates in forensics. Some outstanding achievements in these clubs are his having been elected the Best Thespian last year and winning a state award on his extemporaneous speech. The play role he liked best was that of Father Day in Life With Father and an excellent characterization it was.

Among his other favorites are song "Slowpoke"; movie "Cyrano de Bergerac" and "Hamlet"; pastime, card playing; food, grilled sirloin steak; class, biology; sport, tennis; girl, Beryl.

When asked of embarrassing moments, he answered "None, of course." When he had trouble deciding what his hobby might be, Ted Olson informed us it was "trouble." His advice to underclassmen is to develop good study habits early and be conscientious.

Doherty Auditions For Godfrey

Dave Doherty, a talented singer of L.H.S., has recently returned from a trip to New York where he auditioned for Arthur Godfrey's Talent Show.

Dave left Wisconsin Rapids on the morning of Sunday, December 9. He flew from Stevens Point to Chicago from which he flew to New York. During his five days in New York City Dave was very busy. Besides competing with 65 others for a chance to be on the Arthur Godfrey Show, he saw Judy Garland, Patti Page, and the play, "Two on The Aisle".

Dave is now crossing his fingers and is waiting news of the results of his tryouts. If successful, he will be on the show within the next few weeks. If not, he will have the pleasant memories of his trip and the chance to try again.

Bev Kawalske — People would be surprised to know how much I learned about prayer from playing poker.

Activity, Rest and Fun To Compose Varied Vacations

Since the holiday season is nearing, what do you say we snoop around a bit and see if we can dig out a few vacation plans.

Marlene Deitz—Go to Amherst Junction.

Betty Westfall—Read.

"Pete" Peterson—See if I can't start a Twirp Season for the Christmas Formal.

Virginia Ashenbrenner—Eat, sleep, and study.

Ruth Richardson—Skate and ski.

Bill Stanford—Work!!!

Mary Schwala—Skate and draw, of course!

"Pudge" Accola—Baby sit.

Nellie Warner—Sleep and have fun.

Jim Manley—Get in at 2:00 every night.

Miss Lautenbach—Spend the holiday with friends in Oshkosh.

Shirley Stensberg—Plan to keep Dave occupied.

Sally Shambeau—It all depends (on one certain person!)

Bev Kawalske—Plan my New Years' eve party (and you're invited!)

Never Again (Until Next Year!)

I was just sitting there reading a comic book, when it hit me like a ton of bricks falling on an egg. Tomorrow was Christmas and here I sat with not one snitch of Christmas shopping done. Hastily I gathered up my hard-earned money, grabbed my hat and coat and tore down town.

I walked into a local store and groaned at the sight that met me. The store was literally packed with hundreds of people doing their last minute shopping. It was nothing at all to shop for Bill and Gary, my little three year old brothers. A few picture books and wind-up toys and I could cross their names off my list.

Next was Mother. I spied a beautiful lace blouse. I made a dash for it. But somehow I didn't get it. There was another lady after the same blouse. She pushed her baby buggy right in front of me. Naturally I tripped right over it. The baby buggy, with the baby, tipped over. The baby began to cry and scream. I won't tell you what the lady said to me, because this is a respectable paper, and I'm quite sure they won't print such things!

Well, after searching frantically, I finally spotted a lovely blue suit, which I bought. Then I remembered Mom doesn't like blue. I exchanged it for a tweed.

After about two hours I was loaded down with packages. Some kid came tearing through the store like a bat out of the attic. The kid bumped against a stout lady who stepped on my aching corns and rammed me in the stomach with her elbow. I dropped my packages, coming up fast and hard with my head. You guessed it. There was a table of glassware behind me. I got stuck for paying for all those broken glasses. It sure made $10 look sick.

On the way home a little girl, waving a broom, knocked a few bundles out of my arms. I yelled at the kid, and her mother came along, really bawling me out. Everybody was giving me dirty looks and saying I didn't have the Christmas spirit. It isn't that, oh skip it, you probably wouldn't understand anyway. Beaten, bruised and battered, I staggered home, firmly resolving never, to get caught in the Christmas rush again!

Santa Claus is about the only male who shows an interest in an empty stocking.

Christmas Tree in View, Popcorn Balls and a Book

Vacation will be a good time to catch up on your reading. Book reports will be due the week after vacation; besides it's not too late to start reading for the Reader's Rally.

Northwest Passage by Roberts is a good historical fiction book on the junior Rally list. Recreating the bitter struggles of the French and Indians, it has romance, humor, and factual accuracy.

Another historical fiction by Roberts, Rabble in Arms, tells how Peter Merrill followed Benedict Arnold through the adventures and disasters of that campaign which ended so decisively in the battle of Saratoga.

Also a junior Reader's Rally suggestion is a play, Abe Lincoln in Illinois by R. Sherwood. This is a delightful drama picturing Lincoln from an ungainly, undecided youth to his triumphal success.

For the more scientific minded person there is a book called The Nature of Things by Roy K. Marshall. With the aid of simple drawings he offers a pleasant and informative introduction to some of the major mysteries of this world, such as the inside of atoms, the heart of a star, and the expanding universe.

How about an interesting biography? For you freshmen Jane Adams tells of her many interesting experiences in Twenty Years at Hull House. Sophomores, juniors, seniors, you might consider George Washington Carver, John Adams and the Revolution or Florence Nightingale, respectively.

Or for a very human, heartwarming World War II story had you thought of Brave Men by Ernie Pyle.

HAPPY HOLIDAYS

Have you behaved yourself all year?

And what are you expecting from Santa?

Peace on earth, good will toward men.

Packages are so interesting under the tree.

You and I feel so spirited these days.

Happy New Year!!

Old customs are more fun!

Love that Mistletoe!

I pray for peace in Korea.

Don't celebrate too hard during vacation.

Angels we have heard on high."

Yuletide greetings.

Says the calendar, "Back to school January 7.

Raiders Stun Merrill Bluejays; Prepare For Vacation Tilts

Once again the Rapids Raiders have made an impressive start in their bid for another Valley Championship. The local five won their fourth straight conference game last Friday by defeating the Merrill Bluejays on their home court 74-24. Although the Raiders will be inactive next week, they will keep on with their daily practice drills in preparation for their weekend series with Waukesha and Shorewood on Dec. 26 and 27.

Paced by a consistent scoring attack and a pressing defense, the local squad was in complete control of the ball throughout the game. During the course of the entire contest, the host team never led the Raiders, although the game was tied 5-5 in the first quarter. Center Charley Gurtler took the individual scoring honors with 23 points. Big Chas accounted for 18 markers in the first half and played a brilliant floor game. Wayne Oestreich, a junior forward on the Raider hoopers, clipped the cords for 14 counters while John Chadwick and Jim Moscicki scored an even dozen.

Coach Phil Manders substituted frequently in the Friday night fray, and all nine players scored. The local unit lost the services of Jim Laramie last week when he sprained an ankle.

	RAPIDS (74)				MERRILL (24)
	FG	FT	PF		FG	FT	PF
Oestreich	5	4	3	Car'ton	2	3	2

Raider Jay-Vees Win Merrill Game 36-24

A brilliant shooting spree by Sam VanOrnum enabled the junior Raiders to defeat a hard fighting Merrill B team by a score of 36-24. Van Ornum netted 16 points as Coach Dale Rheel's team posted their sixth straight victory of the season.

Even though the Bees came through on the long end of the score, they missed 14 of 18 gift shots. The Merrill squad also had a poor shooting percentage, having missed 11 of 15 attempts.

Truman Volleyball Team Is Victorious!

The presidents' volleyball teams have concluded their regular season. Truman has emerged as the victor with a 4-0 record. Coolidge was runner-up with 3 wins and 1 loss. Class teams have been picked, and began playing last Monday.

Visual tests were given in all of the gym classes last week. Many students had to have a re-check by the school nurse, Mrs. Martin.

All girls interested in playing ping-pong may sign up in the girls locker room. Basketball and badminton will begin after the Christmas vacation

Instead of having a party this year the Dramatic Club members have donated money with which gifts are being bought for the Old Folks' Home. Several of the members also presented a Christmas broadcast "The Birth of the Song, 'Silent Night,'" last Tuesday.

PLAYER OF THE WEEK

This week, as an honored guest, we are proud to present to the student body of L.H.S. a prospective "star" in the annals of Lincoln High basketball fame, Bob Olson, as senior guard on the Red Raider squad.

Bob started his basketball career at S.S. Peter and Paul in the sixth grade. He played as a regular on the squad during his last two years. In his last year of grade school, Bob captained the championship team in their win over St. Peters at Stevens Point. He was the second highest scorer in the league in his eighth grade season, with teammate Charley Gurtler taking the individual scoring.

As a freshman, "Ole" played football and made the frosh basketball team. He was raised to the B-squad as a soph; and played a top-notch brand of ball. Playing on the varsity in his junior year, he displayed much shooting ability, and was among the top scorers in the Valley Conference. Thus far this year, Bob has won his letter in football and is now active as a guard on the varsity squad.

Bob answers to the nicknames of "Ole" and "Gopher" and is an all-round sport. Besides playing football and basketball, "Ole" is an active member of the track and baseball squads here at Lincoln High and is an efficient diver on the city swimming team. Bob has no definite plans for the future, but has an inkling that he may be inducted into the armed forces. Whatever the case may be, we're behind him 100%.

ON THE SPORT SCENE With Jack O'Brien

One of the major problems now confronting the sporting world is the "fix" racket. Ever since 1948 when the first shocking headlines exposing the "fixers" and crooked players came out, probers have been busy trying to stop these scandals. Some of the players accused of taking bribes, fixing or holding the amount of points down, or throwing games are nationally known stars.

It seems that most of these occurrences took place in highly publicized games, in which the top teams in the nation were competing. Basketball was the first sport in which the investigations proved successful. Among the various well-known teams in the nation that were probed were C.C.N.Y., then the top team in the nation; Bradley, also a top contender; Kentucky, rated 3rd; and Long Island University, one of the top ten.

Although this startling expose of the crookedness in the world of sports was first made known to the public in 1948, the investigations have been taking place since 1944. Only the "higher-ups" knew of these investigations.

Much to the dismay of sports fans all over the nation, the measures taken to stop the vice and corruption did not stop illegal activities. Just recently, two members of the United States Olympic cage squad were indicted for bribery. At the present time, shakedowns are also breaking up rings of racketeers, not only in basketball, but also in other sports.

What induces these famous stars to descend to such shameful depths? Surely money isn't the only reason. Many of them could have played professional ball to make a living. Thus far, this problem has been solved to a certain extent, which is good for everyone concerned. This year could well mean a step toward an all-around better sports program or another one of indecision. Let's hope it's for the better, and that clean sportsmanship will prevail.

It was two days after Christmas and as the minister sat down to dinner he saw a dish of hash at his place. Now, hash was one of the few dishes which this man abhorred and he made no secret of it. As he began to eat, his wife asked him if he forgot to say the blessing. Whereupon this good minister answered, "No but to me all this has been blessed before."

Sports-Past and Future

The Lincoln High freshman basketball squad, coached by J. A. Torresani, has won the only two games played so far this year. In their first game, they defeated a tall Wausau squad 29-27. Tom Gurtler led the scoring with 9 points. Their second game was also played against Wausau and the local hoopers won 23-22. Coach Torresani announced that the frosh will play on January 2.

Students of Lincoln High are due for a special treat on January 3 when the Harlem Globe-Trotters will make their appearance at spacious Lincoln field-house. The Globe-Trotters are world famed as one of the greatest all around professional teams in organized ball. Their terrific brand of ball, along with their humorous antics, have made them crowd-pleasers the world round. Four teams will play in a double-header and there will also be added entertainment for the fans. This will mark the Silver Anniversary of Globe-Trotter activity, so if you want to see basketball at its best, come to Lincoln field-house on January 3.
