MUST THE LIBRARY EMPLOY BLOODHOUNDS?

In our school we are fortunate to have a large and excellent library, especially for the size of our town. Even with such a large library, our school cannot afford a full-time librarian. So, instead, every girl who joins the Library Club becomes a part-time librarian, giving up part of her valuable study time each week to checking out books and care for the library.

Even with these school girls acting as part-time librarians, things are happening in the library that shouldn't. And what, you ask, are these things? Well, the magazines, yes, and even books are being mislaid. Also, students are forgetting to follow the rules on checking out books. The disappearance of the books and magazines is the worst difficulty, but also take a look at the list of people who are keeping books out too long. Don't forget that others maybe waiting for the book you have. Remember to bring books back promptly when you are through with them. If you haven't finished reading a book when the time is up, bring it in and have the librarian renew it. This will prevent the "fine list" from getting too long.

When you take a book or magazine from the library and misplace it, can't find it, or don't return it, you are depriving all the other students of the opportunity of reading it. This even applies to the students of the years to come.

Old magazines as well as new ones are being misplaced. You may ask, "What good are old magazines?" These are of just as much value as the new ones, as they are often used in reference work and are hard to find outside the library.

It is hoped that all will see the seriousness of the situation and make every effort to correct these conditions.

WHAT A BOY EXPECTS FROM A GIRL

On a date the boy expects to have fun as well as the girl. That is the reason he takes her out. If he takes her to a dance, especially out of town, she should not dance with everybody else and forget about him--and expect to get home the same way she got there. He probably had a hard time getting a car, and it isn't fair for him not to have a good time.

A girl shouldn't be just stringing a fellow along when she really likes somebody else. She should not be just using him to get in good with somebody else. After all, there are enough eligible boys around. Another thing that makes boys angry is that continual waiting before a date.

A girl should go out with a fellow when he asks her and not always make excuses.

Miss Hansen: "And what do you little boys want to be when you grow up?"

Philip L: "I want to be a fireman."

David F: "I want to be a police man."

Jack Z: "I want to be a vitamin."

Miss Hansen: "A vitamin! You can't be that."

Jack: "Oh, yes, I can. I saw a poster in the window of the drug store, and it said 'Vitamin B One!'"

BOYS MAKE ME SO ANGRY

Since the boys have found some of our faults, we girls think we should strike back.

Most boys have bad manners. We would like some courtesy, more pleases, thank yous, more honest-to-goodness friendliness, more dates,--and less going steady. Don't be so serious right away, boys.

Girls like to look nice on special occasions. Pretty Peg begs for Mom's nylons and presses her skirt when she should have been studying, brushes her hair and then alas,--the big moment comes! He says, "Who are you trying to look like, Rita Hayworth?" I hope boys will notice little things after this. We dress up for them and they don't even appreciate it.

He complains about girls putting on lipstick and combing their hair in public, but does he ever realize how silly he looks combing his curls in public while the date waits for him to order the "coke."

And,--boys, it's not always the girls who are late for the dates. Any girl who has never waited for a boy to show up, please speak up. Silence. You see?

Another thing girls can't stand is a boy who expects them to rush outside at the toot of his horn. Also, fellows, who don't know enough to see a girl to her door after a date are just taboo! Girls don't like to walk alone.

Why, do boys do such childish things,--such as pulling girls' hair, hiding books, etc. You'd think they belonged to the kindergarten.

Unless they have a car and lots of money, some boys think they can't have dates. We girls say they are wrong.

"Why they call money 'dough' sure is hard to understand," says Wayne Jensen. "'Dough' is something that sticks to the fingers!"

Boys, you might try dancing instead of holding up the wall. Even if you aren't an Arthur Murray or didn't take lessons from him, it's alright. The girls will excuse you and help you along. Girls like to dance with you. Or if you're just bashful--get out on the floor. You're not the only boy dancing.

So fellows,--as wonderful as you are,--you still are far from perfect.

Mrs. Wellner: "What are that young man's intentions, Joan?"

Joan: "I don't know. Tom is keeping me pretty much in the dark!"

Fritz W: "'Cubic' is the language spoken in Cuba!"

SENIOR CLASS

The Seniors are very busy doing this and that.

Some of their time is spent working on the PAPHYRUS. Recently the class reporters met with the Seniors to receive their PAPHYRUS assignments.

Studying governments is taking up part of their time. They are studying the government of Port Edwards. Are there any questions about the local government? Just ask one of the Seniors.

In English they have just finished reading, "The Tale of Two Cities." It proved to be very interesting, didn't it?

Naturally they are looking forward to graduation. The class has sent for their announcements and calling cards.

Outside of that, they say everything is the same.

JUNIOR CLASS

At the end of the first semester, the Junior class finished studying the Civil War and it's causes, and writing themes on the War. They are now studying the Westward Expansion.

In English, they are learning about the Abolitionist Writers, one of them being the famous Whittier.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

The Sophomore class has just finished fighting the Crusades of the Middle Ages and is now reading Sir Walter Scott's great tale, "Ivanhoe" which is proving more interesting as they progress deeper into the story.

Their bulletin board displays

many colorful and educational projects. Some interesting ones are: Castle construction and diagrams, various clothing styles of the Middle Ages, and important leaders of the Crusades.

FRESHMEN CLASS

Have you noticed any improvement in the 9th grade English? We have been trying hard. To help us in this, we have been studying nouns in the nominative, possessive, and objective case, and subjects and predicates.

In citizenship we have been studying about voting and electing of officials of the government.

With the beginning of the new semester, the Freshmen class lost one of its members, Belva Losey who transferred to Nekoosa. Belva will be missed by the entire class.

8th GRADE

The 8th grade has just finished their work on the Revolutionary War, and has written 1500-word themes.

They have been studying the Constitutional Convention and the Constitution, each branch of the government and the checks and balance system. They have been discussing how the government has changed.

In English they have been striving to improve their spelling.

7th GRADE

The 7th graders who have received Honorable Mention Cards for their drawings in connection with the radio program "Let's Draw", are: Paula Alexander, Bill Dolan, Judy Karberg, Donald Carlson, and Nancy Paulson. Nancy was also chosen to be on the Honor Roll.

Professor Gordon of radio station WHA, University of Wisconsin, will visit the 5th, 6th, and 7th grades soon, to hear the music from "Journeys in Music Land." He will listen to one class and also spend a half hour for a song festival.

HOME EC. CLASS VISITS LOCKER PLANT

On January 12, the Home Economics I class took the bus to the Rapids where they went to visit the locker plant. There the girls were shown beef, pork, and other carious cuts of meat. They were also shown the smoke room, where they saw ham and bacon smoking, the 20 below zero room, and the locker storage room. They saw crates of lobster tails, which as a man told them, were worth $1,000. The class has been studying meat and how to prepare it, so this trip proved beneficial.

CAMERA CLUB

Wait! Hold that pose! O! K! Those are words of those anxious camera club members as they are taking pictures for the 1947 PAPYRUS. Pictures are what the club is concentrating on--especially the seniors.

At the meeting on Wednesday, February 5, the club members were shown colored slides by Miss Virginia Hopkins. They were mostly scenes of beauty taken practically all over the U. S.--most of them being out west. Some slides of flowers were shown as Miss Hopkins likes to photograph them. She gave us many ideas about colored photography.

DRAMATIC CLUB

On January 6, Miss Pockat gave a party at the Teacherage for the cast of the play, "June Mad". The entertainment consisted of several games and listening to different radio programs. They enjoyed refreshments which consisted of ice cream and cookies.

From reports we hear that the teachers missed fruit from the kitchen and meat from the refrigerator after the party was over. However, they are quite happy about the clock that didn't work before. But, alas, on the night of January 6, it was given a magic touch by one of the guests and now it merrily ticks out the minutes and strikes the hours.

ARROWS IN ARCHERY

In Archery Club, the members shoot to win arrows. The person who makes the highest number of points in six rounds, shooting six arrows at each round, minus a ten point handicap, should he have one from a previous arrow won, will win an arrow. With this arrow, he receives another ten point handicap. The purpose of the handicap is to give more people a chance to win arrows.

Thus far, those who have won arrows are Dick Mosher with 5, George Van Ert 3, Dorothy Oilschlager 3, Fritz Weigand 2, Bob Gilardi 2, and Keith Styka 1.

LIBRARY CLUB

The Library Club had one of its bi-monthly meetings on January 28.

The girls checked in books and spent most of their time straightening and rearranging the shelves.

For snacks, they were served, popcorn and pepsi-cola in the Home Economics room by Helen Siems and Violet Schauer.

MOVIES

On January 15, the high school was entertained by another long movie entitled "Schubert, The Melody Master." This was the story of Schubert's life. There also was a cartoon before the movie which gave us many good laughs.

On February 3, we saw a short movie entitled "How Do You Do"--demonstrating the "rights" and "wrongs" in making graceful introductions.

On February 10, we enjoyed the long afternoon movie we had been waiting for, "Jane Eyre". We want more of them.

AH! SOMETHING NEW HAS BEEN ADDED

Tuesday, February 4, the Junior and Senior High of JEHS had a new experience. The classes in the afternoon were shortened and a fourth period was started. This was done for the benefit of the girls chorus which up to this time has had to meet after school. However, it is not known whether this will be continued or not as it was a trial to see how well it would work. If this period is continued, there is talk of starting clubs at this time for the boys and the girls not in the chorus. The girls are happy with this arrangement, as there will no longer be a 4 o'clock practice. This gives a study period to the other students, or a chance to join a club.

Miss Sutor, over the Christmas vacation, followed Mrs. Haugen's example, and was married. She is now Mrs. Otto Zika of Friendship. We offer our congratulations for a very happy wedded life, but we are sorry to hear you will leave the teaching profession. We'll be dropping in on you next year for the Adams-Friendship game!

Cupid surely has been working among the teachers! We hardly need the lights since Miss Pockat got her sparkler. Now, we wonder who's next!

Evelyn Kulinski, a senior, has joined the ranks of the "engaged" and informs us that he is from the Point, but that they have no immediate plans as he is still in service. Have you seen her sparkler!

6TH GRADE NEWS

The 6th graders are enjoying their new Social Studies text, "The Old World and Its Gifts." At the present time, they are studying about the countries of Central Europe.

The 6th grade reading class is starting a unit entitled "Fun and Fancy." At the end of the unit, they are planning to share fanciful books, stories, and poems that they are reading independently.

5TH GRADE NEWS

The 5th grade room shows evidences that winter is here. They have snowmen families, designed mittens and a winter poetry bulletin board. They have written original poems about the season, and with the poems have pasted cut-paper snowflakes.

Their unit in science has been finished and now have begun the one on health. The first unit studied was food and a balanced diet. They are making plans for a Valentine Box and party, and a program for Washington's Birthday.

4TH GRADE NEWS

On January 17 the 4th grade gave their program which consisted of two plays called "Father Time's Birthday" and "In January." Between the plays, Jean Dailey sang a solo, "Riding Through The Snow."

They have been writing letters in language class, and they learned how to address envelopes.

In reading class they are having a pioneer unit and so they drew pioneer scenes as well as read about how the pioneers lived and how plucky they were.

3RD GRADE NEWS

The 3rd grade pupils have been working on the unit study of pioneers. This proved to be very interesting as well as educational.

They presented a play in the "Little Theater", on Friday, January 31, the title of which was "Children Around the World." The pupils chose characters from America, Switzerland, Holland, and China to appear in the play. It was enjoyed by parents and friends of the pupils.

2ND GRADE

The second grade has been preparing for their Valentine party which was held today.

They did some very nice work with water colors--painting pictures to represent lessons from their science class.

Arithmetic, a new subject to these children, has recently been introduced to them and they are progressing nicely.

Mrs. Morphy's music program is enjoyed by these pupils once a week. A recent project from this radio program was an art project the pictures being of swans and butterflies.

1ST GRADE NEWS

The 1st grade is working on a play house. The boys are making chairs from orange boxes, and the girls are sewing curtains. Mr. Larson is painting the furniture for them.

They are now learning new songs for their play.

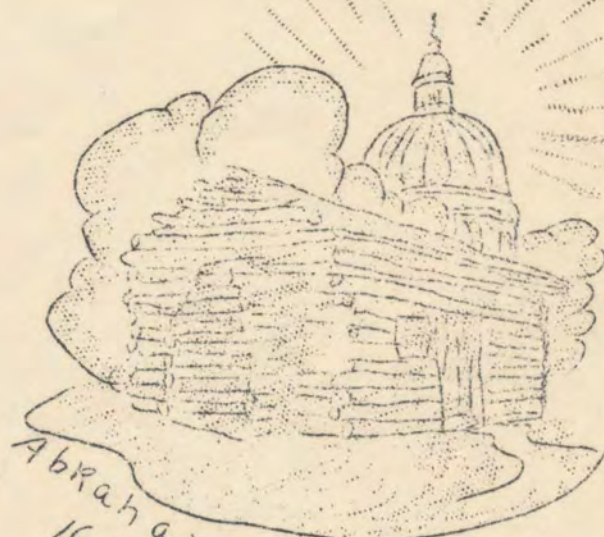

KINDERGARTEN NEWS

The kindergarten has been doing finger painting work. These were cut down and used as invitations and program covers for their play. Three cases of mumps have been reported in the class.

THE JUNIORS PERFORM

In preparation for the "Nekoosa fray" Tuesday night, our "notorious juniors" staged a classical production in three acts. Opening with "Phil's Harmonic Orchestra," followed by their version of "Canned Opera," they closed with a "dripping" Nekoosa burial. Such outstanding talent should not be limited to our JEHS. Why not try Carnegie Hall, Larry?

Seriously, we enjoyed the program,--all hail to next years' seniors!

ADAMS-FRIENDSHIP BEATS PORT, 33-24

On A-F's small floor, Port lost a hard game. It was very even until the last quarter when Jensen and Reiman went out on fouls. Wipfli was high scorer for Port with 8 points. Schneider was high for A-F with 11 points. The B game was a different story with Port running over A-F, 36-12.

In a game which was very close up to the last quarter, Port put on a final spurt to beat Montello. The game was not the best of the season, but was very good teamwork on both sides. Jensen was high for Port with 11 points, while the two top scorers in the 7-C, Vaughn, and Cotter, had 18 and 11 points for Montello.

PORT TAKES WAUTOMA, 32-25

At Wautoma, Saturday, February 1, Port won a close game. Wautoma used a tight zone defense, which may have been the reason for Port scoring only four points in the first quarter. But in the second quarter, we got down to business and put twelve points through the hoop. Reiman and Jensen were high for Port, splitting twenty-two points between them. Seybold was high for Wautoma with twelve points. The B game ended with Port 40, Wautoma, 22.

SENIOR DANCE

The seniors sponsored a pleasant evening of dancing on Friday, February 7. Music was furnished by the class orchestra. It was the groups' first appearance and they deserve much credit. Members are: Jack Gatz, Art Foth, Gordon Dailey, Ronald Humphrey, Genevieve Bruener, with "Dot" Oilschlager as vocalist.

Young and old attended, and there were "shutter bugs" about, taking pictures of the "new band".

PORT WINS OVER NEKOOSA IN DOUBLE OVERTIME, 37-33

In a rough but exciting game, Port won from Nekoosa on Feb. 11. It was nip and tuck all the way. First quarter ended, Port leading 10-8. In the second half, Port got hot and pulled away to a 7-point lead. This did not last long as the game was tied in the final minute of play. Port had a couple free throws in the 1st overtime which could have won the game, but the score was still tied. In the 2nd overtime, baskets by Kauth and Wipfli put the game in the bag. Jensen was high scorer for Port with 12 points while Olson was high for Nekoosa with 8. Nekoosa's 8th grade took the first game, and their B squad also won.

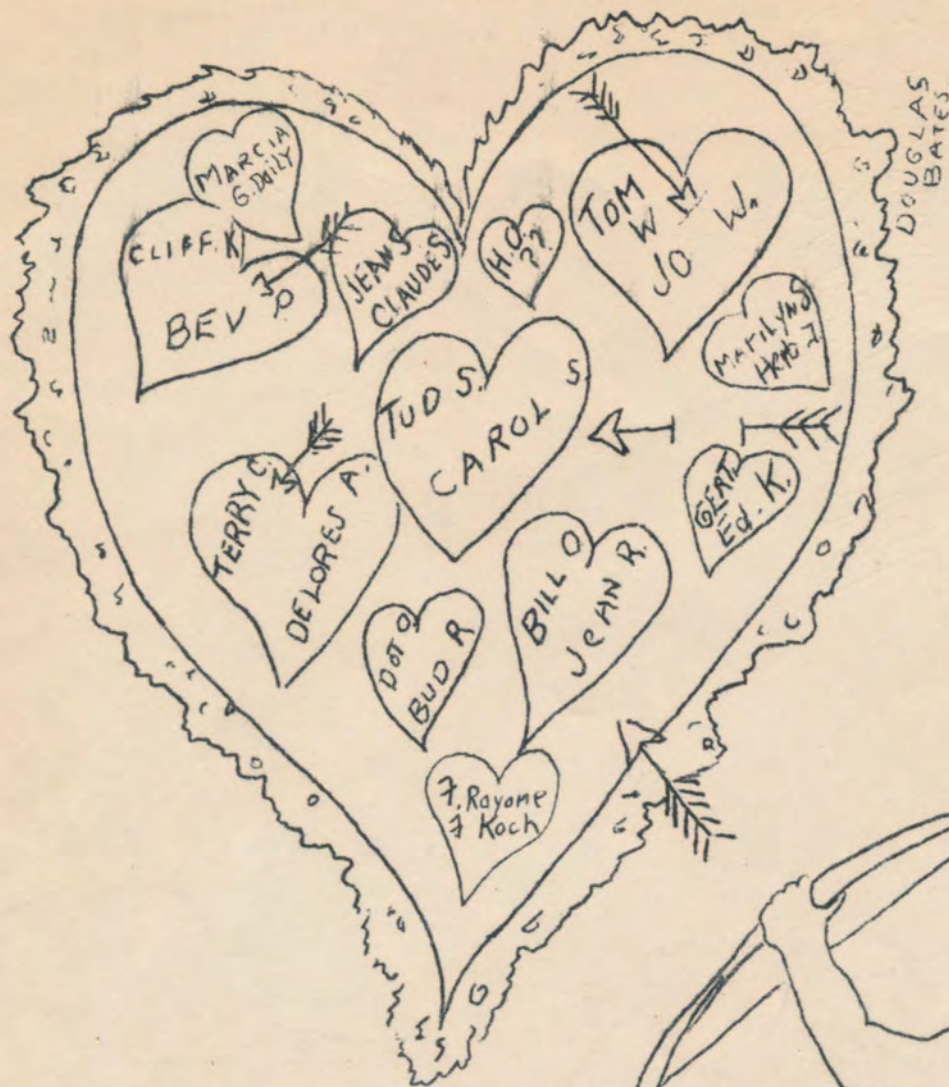

The gym was filled to the rafters with excited rooters.
