Kent, here is something for next week.

We have a fund raiser here on the lake called the Harbor Hop. The Chamber of Commerce sponsors it and different civic organizations (in our case Rotary) have the opportunity to make money "dealing".....There are about 35 bars and restaurants on the lake that pay to enter and then the participants pay $10.00 to draw 7 cards.....one at each place of business reached by water. We have a very popular bar close to us and so we were stationed there for 8 hours! YIKES. A very nice group of 30 somethings came in about 4:30 and drew their cards and sat down for a drink....pretty soon they were asking me if I wanted to come over and shoot the minnow with them. This bar is known around the lake for the fact that you can buy a shot of liquor (or Coke) and a minnow and swallow or "shoot" the minnow with the shot. So I said, "I think I will".....Ron was surprised cause usually only the tourists and the weekenders do that, but after sitting there all day, I guess I was bored. So I ordered up a shot of Cuervo Gold and picked up that little sucker by the tail and put him in the back of my throat and shot the tequila. (much to their and my amazement). They left and about 15 minutes later came back into the bar with a T-shirt that says, "I shot the minnow at Big Dick's" for me. They thought it was way cool and wanted me to have the t-shirt. The pictures were taken and here they are!

Hope everyone gets a good laugh!.....ah, the things we do.
